WELLS OF PROMISE

Published by the eighty-seventh graduating class of
Findlay Senior High School
Findlay, Ohio

FOREWORD

Just a century ago, the Drake well opened an era of sparkling development. With a giant surge of majestic power, its liquid black fingers have shot restlessly skyward—as if searching for the very infinite realms of the universe. The well is capped and the power is directed, so that it might be of the greatest possible service to mankind.

The oil industry has indeed established Findlay as a well cultured, pleqsant, and friendly town—one whose people are intent in their desire for progress in every field, especially that of education.

They realize that each student is comparable to an oil well. In his childhood, his mind drives its shaft deep into the ground. The basic structure is completed, and the mind is ready for its ultimate operation. The strike is made! The vast potential of the mind becomes an active gusher—hesitating at first, unsure of its strength. It must then be capped to guide it toward the advancement of humanity.

The 1959 staff of the Trojan hopes, in some small way, to impress upon you graduates especially, this important relationship between the continual progress offered by oil industries, and the unceasing opportunities offered by the "Wells of Promise."

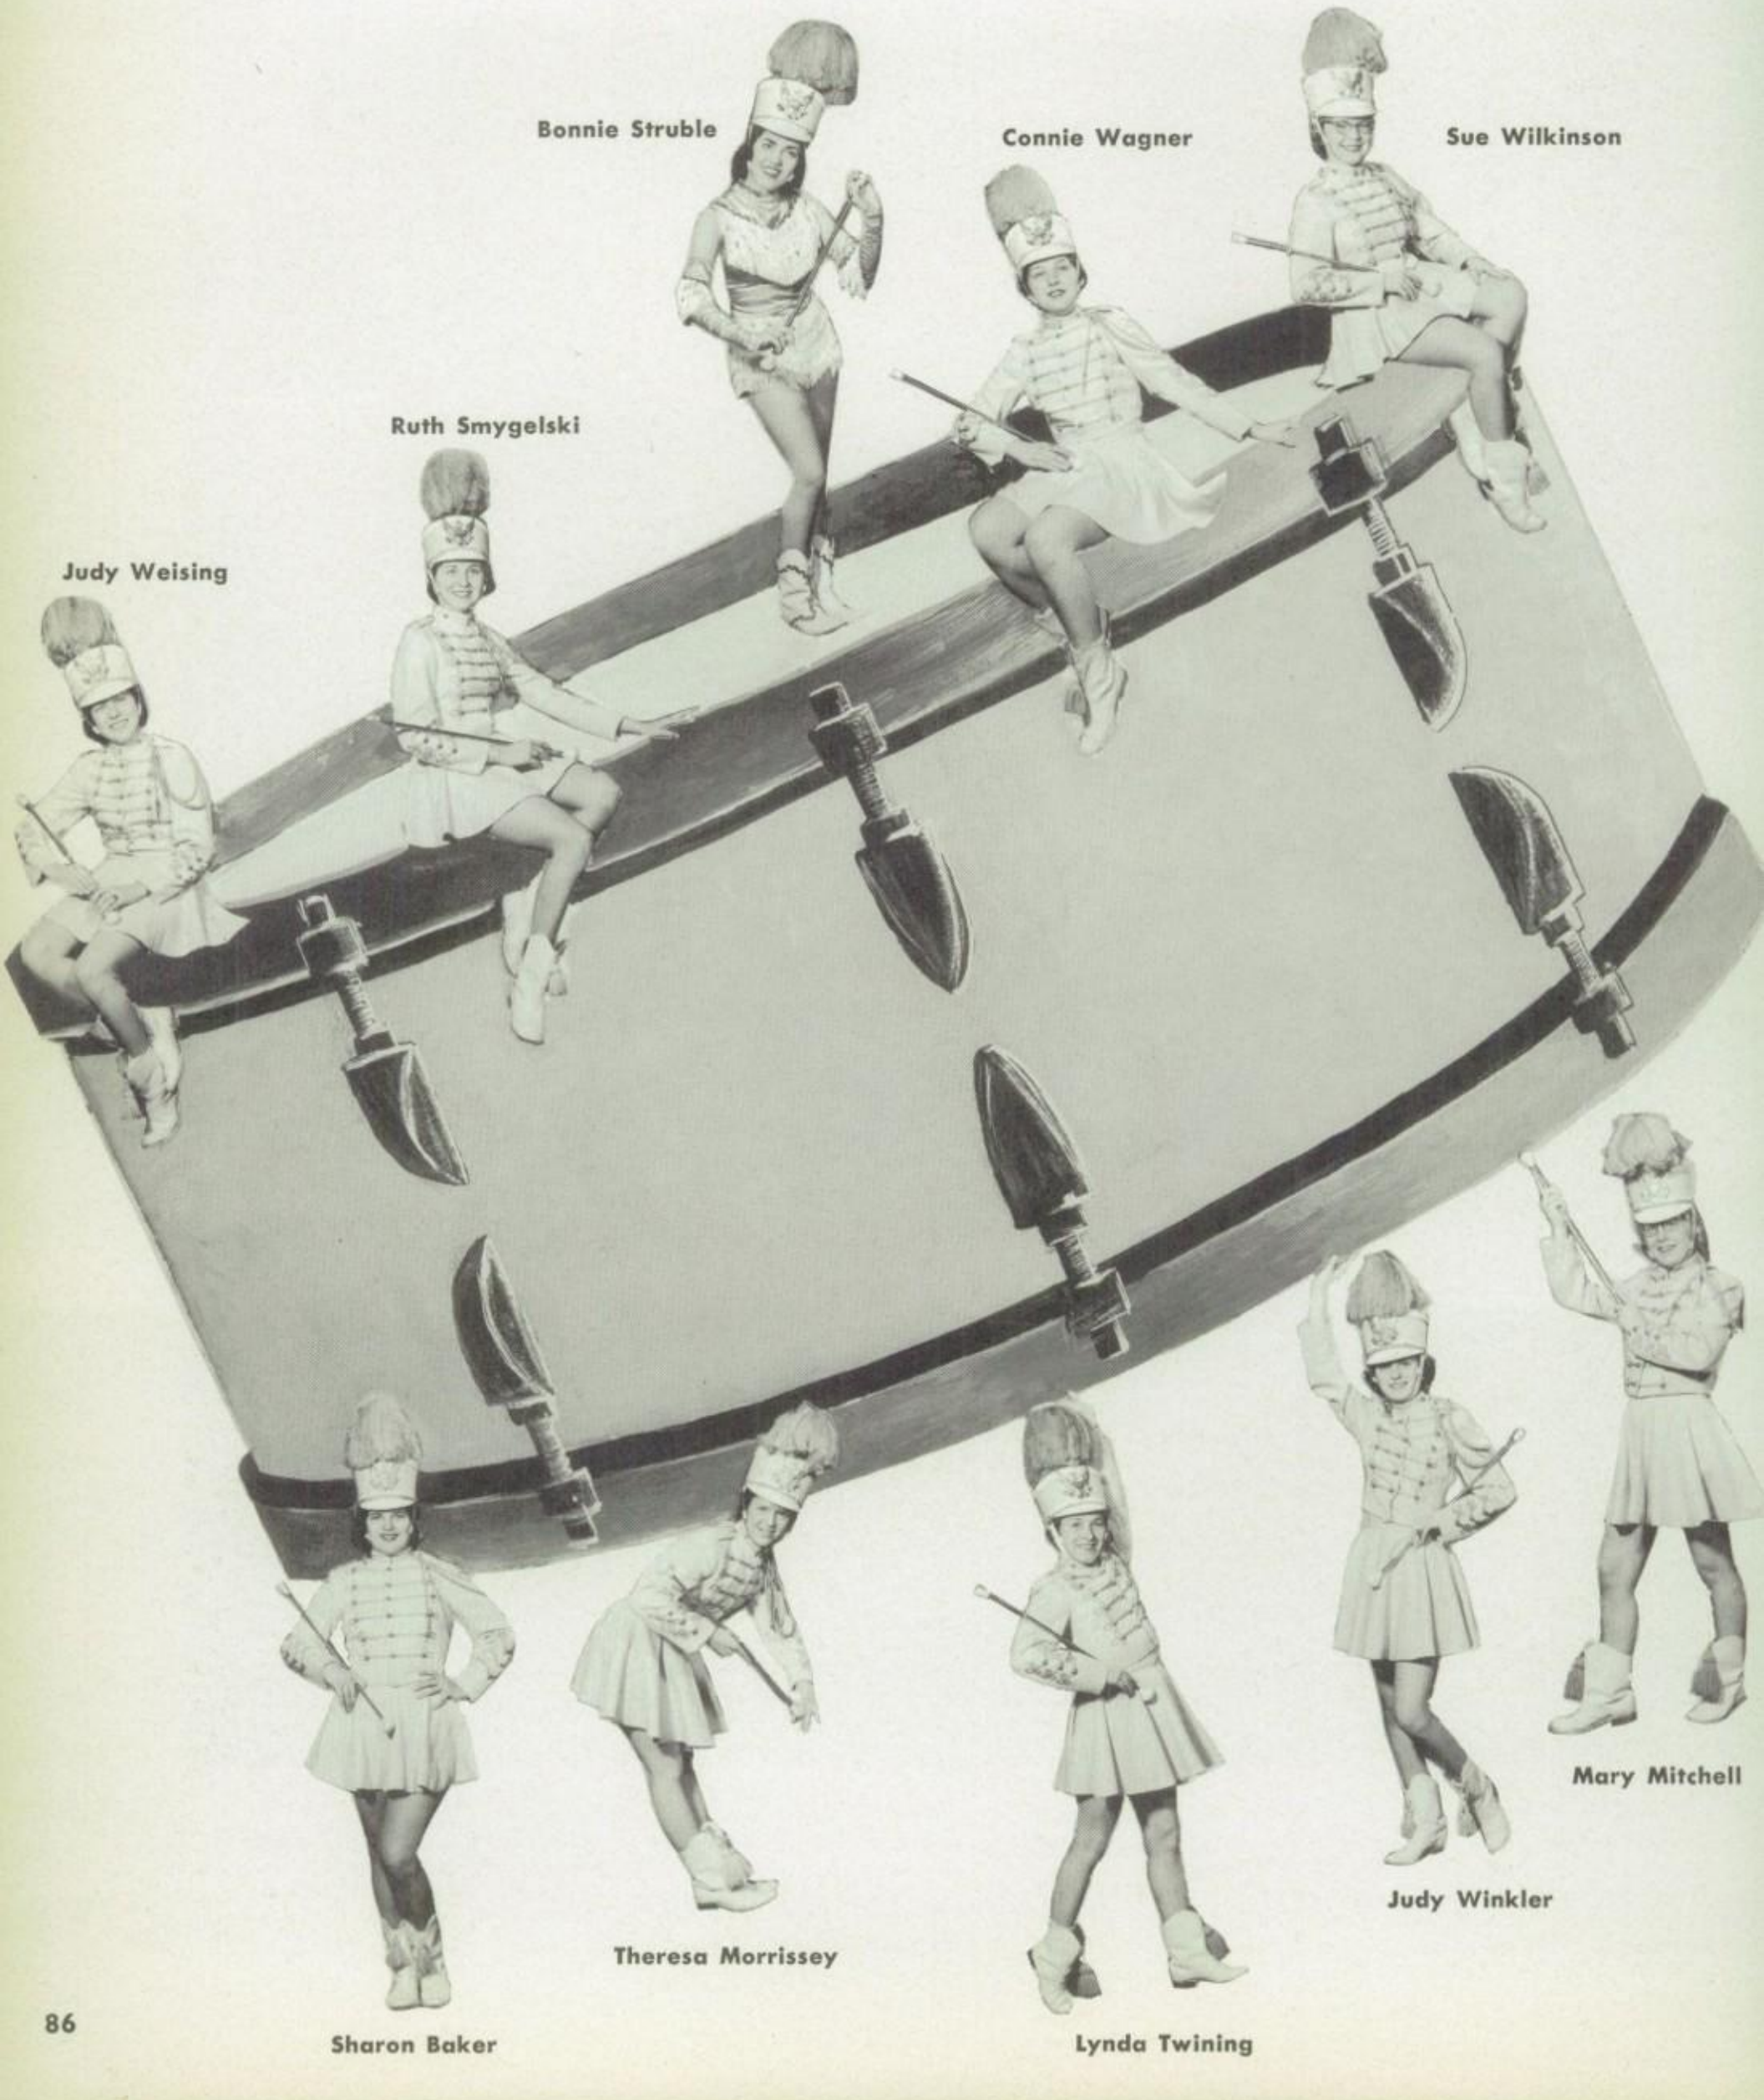
F. H. S. Majorettes



F. H. S. Band

The Findlay High School band has been noted for its excellence throughout this area of the country. In striving for perfection, our F. H. S. band has three vigorous work-outs per week. These two pictures typify such a session.

Under the direction of Clifford Hite, the F. H. S. Marching Band, known for its "Stereophonic Sound," again gave highlighting half-time performances at last season's football contests.

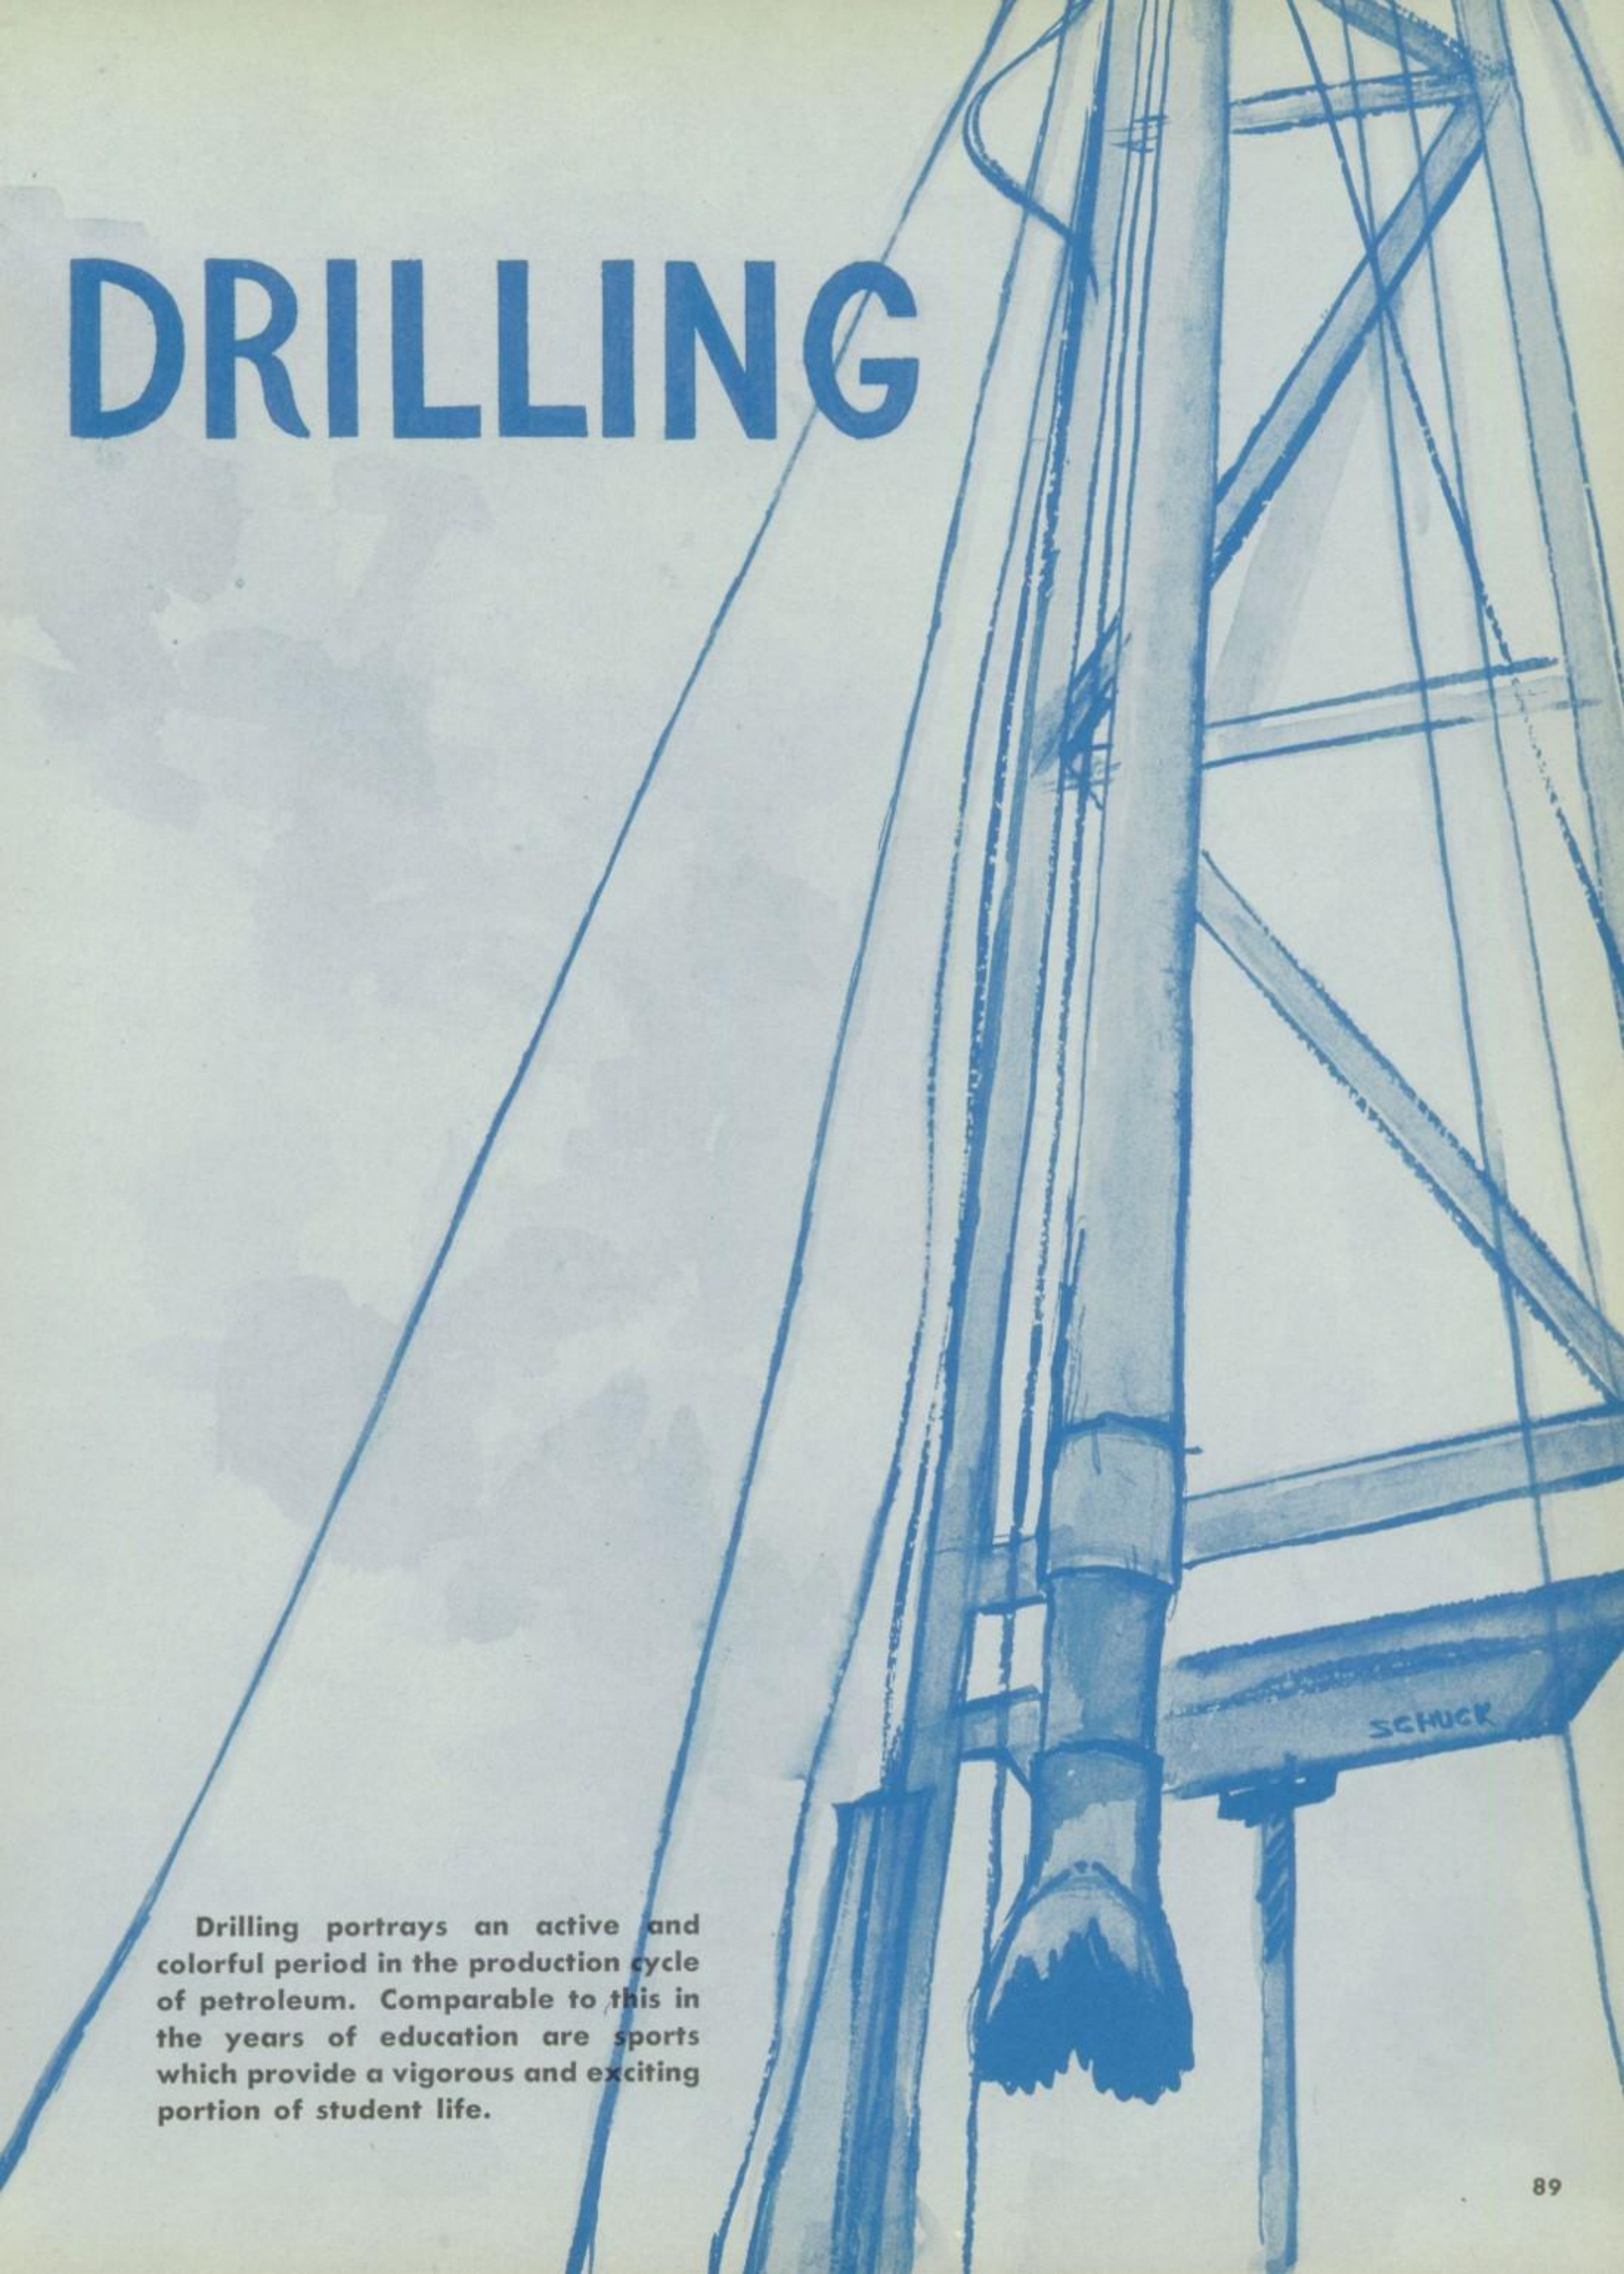
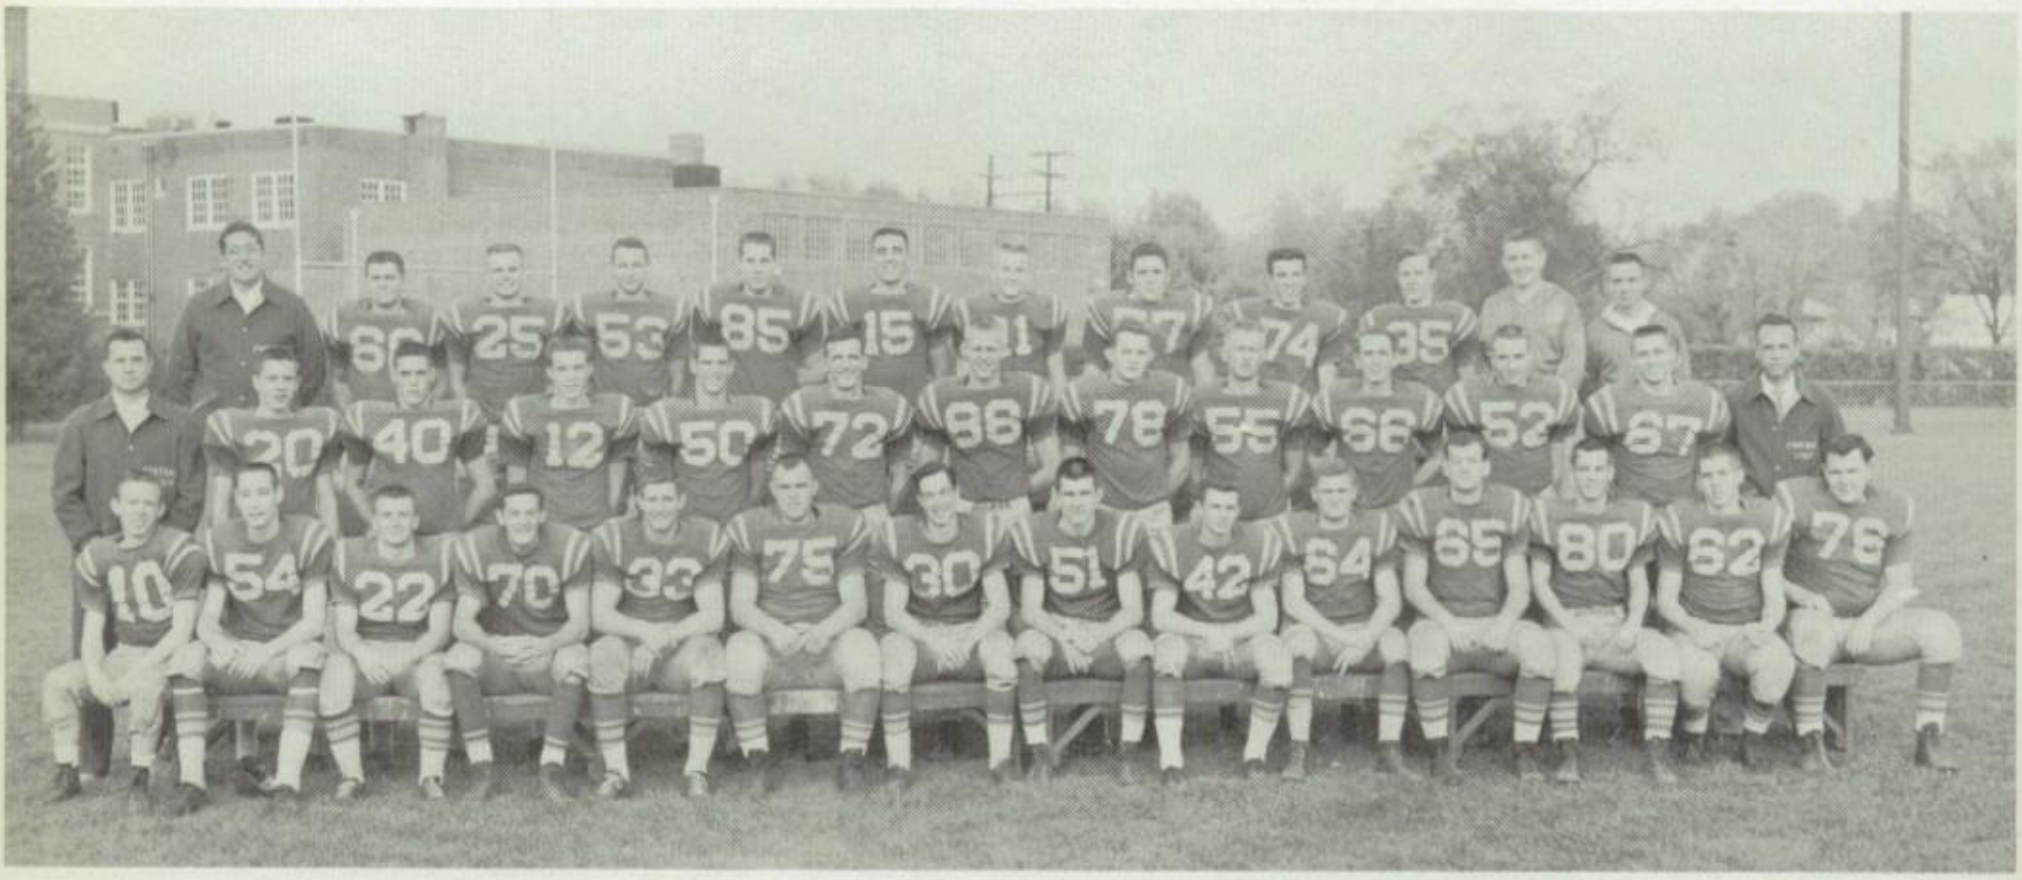
DRILLING



Drilling portrays an active and colorful period in the production cycle of petroleum. Comparable to this in the years of education are sports which provide a vigorous and exciting portion of student life.

Football

Varsity Squad



FIRST ROW: R. Clark, J. Susko, D. Highsmith, N. Roynon, C. Hickle, G. Byrd, K. Klopp, M. Napoliello, M. Pegg, D. Arras, M. Miles, C. Crabiel, J. Powell, C. Fenimore.
SECOND ROW: Coach C. Heninger, J. Adams, S. Kuhlman, B. Traul, R. Molder, E. Wyatt, B. Sandel, J. Sprouse, L. Lunn, B. Manley, D. Foote, T. Rannells, Coach N. Schmidt.
THIRD ROW: Coach J. Howe, D. Bushong, S. Chaney, J. Sutton, C. Collins, J. Federici, M. Lanning, J. Patterson, J. Laurent, J. McIntosh, J. Staley, L. Krabill.

Although the spirit was high, Findlay High's football team had a rather disappointing year with a record of 4-6. Coach Neil Schmidt in his fourth year as head of the Trojans produced a much better team than the '57 squad. The highlight of the season was the Fremont game with the F. H. S. Senior boys ringing the victory bell.

SECOND ROW: T. Lear, E. Phillips, B. Lee, J. Federici, H. Davis, S. Kuhlman.

In Coach Bob Werley's third year as the Trojan Mentor, the F. H. S. Basketball team had an average season with a 9-9 record. The Trojans, having a hard time finding the basket and lacking in height, found their competition against the best in the state. Under the leadership of Coach Jim Howe the J. V.'s showed a great deal of promise for the next Trojan team.

A great industry was born 100 years ago

In 1859, Colonel Edwin Drake drilled 69½ feet into the earth and struck oil. His discovery gave America a big, new source of petroleum for kerosene lamplight — and launched a century of industrial achievement.

Now a new century of progress begins

Since Colonel Drake first tapped the rich, subterranean oil resources of America, the search for this remarkable raw material has gone on and on.

The Ohio Oil Company has been, and is, in the forefront of the search. We now own or lease millions of acres of oil and gas producing land. Our explorations for oil range over the U. S., Canada, Africa, Central and South America.

No quest could be more justified. For oil is among the most versatile of substances. It propels our cars, planes, trains and ships . . . helps our factories and farmers produce more goods . . . provides essential ingredients for roofing, furniture polish, plastics, detergents, synthetic rubber, and countless other things we use.

Oil is a vital factor in our economy. It contributes to an ever-improving standard of living for all of us. The Ohio Oil Company is proud to be part of the oil industry. We are confident that this 100-year-old "infant" is just beginning to grow.

BEST IN THE LONG RUN
